WINNIPEG, Nov. 25.

Hon. Thos. White has been nominated by the Conservative convention of the County of Marquette in opposition to Robert Watson. He may probably accept.

A fight recently took place between a band of Crow Indians and some Canadian trappers on the Missouri river, in Montana. It is said that the Indians caught the trappers stealing game from their traps and a vigorous fight ensued. The trappers numbered five, armed with Winchester rifles and with shotguns.
One trapper was killed, but the Indians were driven back and pursued several miles. A number of Indian disturbances in the west are now occurring owing to the fact that a number of wandering bands have been permitted to leave their reservations.

A disastrous fire visited Portage la Prairie last Tuesday morning, $100,000 worth of property was destroyed.

Princess Beatrice has been lately accused of a son. Lord Randolph Churchill was present, representing the Ministry.

Bishop Laflèche, of Three Rivers, has issued a mandament forbidding the circulation of the Rielite paper Le Soleil
in his diocese, and condemned in the strongest terms possible the Riel agitation, which he declares is carried on by an association of men for that purpose,
and is subversive of the influence of the clergy and opposed to the best interests of the country, and particularly dangerous to the position of the French Canadian people. In the mandate is another spoke to the Rielites, and when it is generally known it will undoubtedly cause a sensation.

It is pretty generally understood now that the Dominion elections will not come on this year.

Sir Charles Dilke, in an interview
in Paris with a Figaro reporter, in relation to the Crawford divorce case, said he had proved to his friends that he was a victim of a conspiracy and would publicly prove the truth of this charge in another suit which he would bring to establish his innocence.

The Eastern embargo remains unchanged. Russian consuls have made an ingenious retreat from Beislinga.

Basilé Richot, a half-breed living two miles from Winnipeg, was murdered by Pierre Laroche last Sunday, being shot with a gun. The coroner's jury has returned a verdict of wilful murder.

General Strange is going to be a candidate for one of the Northwest constituencies.

J. M. Campbell is improving.

Col. McLeod arrived on last Monday, with Lord Boyle, M. N. W. C., and Assistant Indian Commissioner Reed. Col.
McLeod was very much surprised to find such a large town on the banks of the Saskatchewan, in this region, and is charmed with the place.

Hayter Reed's many warm friends in this region were much pleased to learn of his arrival in town on last Monday. He is stopping at the Queen's. Mr. Reed acted as Brigade Major here during the rebellion, and to him was due, perhaps more than to any other officer, the efficiency of the garrison. Mr. Reed, in company with Col. McLeod and Lord
Boyle, will leave shortly for Batdeford.

Court opened last Tuesday, in Tall's store, lately occupied by R. C. Wigmore, Col. McLeod presiding. A number of cases were disposed of, the principal ones being the cattle cases. Shore, Clarke and W. Macdonald, the men who had been committed for trial at this court, were acquitted of the charges brought against them, without any evidence being taken in their defense, the Judge holding that there was no evidence to show that they were guilty. Col. Mc-Leod has created a very good impression here, his decisions meeting with very general approval. He goes to Battleford from here.

The Supreme Court of the Northwest
will be announced to-morrow.

THE LIBEL CASE.

PLAINTIFF NON-SUITED.

HE ASKS FOR $10,000.—HE GETS
NOTHING AND PAYS COSTS.

The libel suit instituted against this journal by William V. Macleise, town solicitor, came up for trial this week before Col. McLeod. A great deal of interest was taken in the case by the public, and the court room was filled with people anxious to hear the result.

The cause of action arose out of an editorial published in a recent issue of this journal in which we took issue with the town solicitor on the question as to whether Prince Albert was legally incorporated or not, we maintaining that it was, and that there was no necessity for asking the Northwest Council to pass an ordinance to legalize what was already law, as the Town Council were led to by the advice of the town solicitor, or the silly plea that "doubts might arise." But the causa belli arose mainly from our calling in question the wisdom or the sincerity of the course pursued by the town solicitor in giving the advice he did, the latter claiming that his standing as a solicitor and advocate had been injured thereby.

Mr. A. Sifton acted for the plaintiff, while Messrs. Brewster and Newlands were retained by us. After six jury men being sworn in Mr. Macleise was placed in the witness box, and proceeded, upon oath, to support our view of the case, by stating that he had no doubt in his own mind as to the legality of the incorporation of the town, but as doubts might arise owing to the lapse of time between the receiving of the petition for incorporation and the election, he advised
the Town Council to secure the passage of an ordinance to avert such a contingency. The town clerk proved that Mr. Macleise was the town solicitor, and Mr. Maveety, of The Times, admitted publication and disclaimed malice.
The Judge thereupon ordered a non-suit allowing the defendants costs, and discharged the jury.

Thus we have been put to trouble and expense for doing our duty to the public by opposing what we considered was unwise legislation, and justified in our course by the evidence of the plaintiff himself.

INFORMATION WANTED.

To the Editor of The Times.

SIR,—As one deeply interested in the political as well as the social and material development of this important district of Saskatchewan, I would like to ask through the columns of THE TIMES if any steps are being taken by the "Free and independent" electors of this district to select a suitable candidate to represent them in the next Parliament of Canada. I do not, of course, contemplate that any person opposed to the present Government will be put forward, as that, besides being a piece of base ingratitude towards a party that has done so much for this district, would be a species of folly that I do not think even the Government's greatest enemy would care to be engaged in. But from the many eligible aspirants to political honors in the district some one should be chosen who possesses the confidence and would command the support of the greatest number of electors.

While not wishing in any way to influence the electors of Prince Albert in their choice, I would wish to remind them that amongst those from whom a selection might be made is one who has legitimate claims upon the people of Saskatchewan; one who in the past has shown himself an earnest, energetic and faithful advocate of the best interests of this district, and one who has spared neither labor nor expense in promoting what he believed to be the welfare of the people in the country where his own means are so largely invested. I refer to Mr. D. H. Macdowall. Being absent from the country, Mr. Macdowall's name may not appear prominently before the people of Prince Albert, nor do I know that he would accept a nomination if tendered him; but I do know that if his friends or those who are in his confidence can say for a certainty that he would accept, it is his high time they had commenced organization. The people in this section of the district prefer the candidature of Mr. Macdowall, but should he not be put forward we are prepared to support the candidate selected by a convention of the electors called for the purpose, and no other. Will some one of your many readers, therefore, enlighten us upon what is being done by the people of Prince Albert in the matter, or shall we appeal to the politicians of the "ancient capital" to nominate a man and throw in our lot with them?

TERRITORIAL NEWS.

EDMONTON.

The Bulletin, Oct. 30, says:—

H. S. Young, of the H. B. Co., arrived from Lac la Biche on Saturday last. Roads good, weather fine. Twenty-seven persons had died from measles at Beaver Lake and Lac la Biche. The disease was abating. Potatoes are very plentiful and crops generally are good, but hay is scarce, owing to time lost during haying at the scrip issue. The fishery is in progress and there are prospects of a fair catch. The Beaver Lake fishery was on at the time the measles was worst during the cold snap of the 16th, consequently no catch was made, and the Indians will likely be hard up this winter. The Catholic Mission are putting gristing machinery in a new mill building on their old saw mill site near the Mission. They expect to grind this fall. P. Pruden has given up his mill project and removed near the settlement.

CALGARY.

The Tribune, Nov. 12th, says:—

The blaze on Sunday morning last has caused a loss over insurance of $78,800. The insurance amounted $24,500.

A young man named Hector McFayden, employed by Holt & McKenzie as saw mill foreman and general overseer of bridge timber, at Donald, was struck in the back by a yard engine, on Nov. 3rd, and so seriously injured that he died a short time afterwards.

Lord Boyle, who arrived in town last Monday, is much pleased with this region, and we would not be surprised if he were to drive all his cattle up here next spring. You see he would be close at hand when the H. B. Railway is opened up, and he able to monopolize the English market.

North West Council.

KEENA, Nov. 8.

The Committee appointed to memorialize the Dominion Government on the subject of granting the same awards and distinctions to the N. W. M. Police as were granted to the other regular corps for services rendered at the time of the late rebellion, reported that in the opinion of the committee the Police were deserving of both the scrip and the medal.

Lord Boyle moved that the report be received, Mr. Crawford seconding the motion, which was passed.

Lord Boyle then moved the following resolution:

"That this Council is of opinion that the valuable services rendered by the N. W. M. Police during the late outbreak should be rewarded by their receiving the same awards and distinctions as were conferred on the other regular corps in service at that time. We would beg leave respectfully to point out that in a great measure the services of this force were insufficiently appreciated in Canada. That the argument advanced against their receiving such awards and distinctions are, in our opinion, to a great extent fallacious, and that we are confident such a bestowal will be hailed through the Northwest with satisfaction as an act of justice."

Mr. Crawford seconded the motion, which was adopted by the House.

The petitions of Wolsley and of Genfell, for increase of municipal territory were refused.

The ordinance respecting the mode of calling juries was discharged, on the motion of Judge Richardson.

The ordinance to amend the School Ordinance was read a first time.

Mr. Marshall moved certain amendments to the herd law. He wished to change the time which the law remained in force to from the 1st June to the 1st of October.

Messrs. Belford, Turfitt and Ross strongly opposed any change of dates in the present herd law, and the motion was referred to the miscellaneous committee.

Mr. Hughes moved for a return showing the number of electors in each electoral district and number of votes for each district.

His honor introduced an ordinance respecting cemeteries.

Nov. 9.

His Honor laid on the table a petition from Prince Albert asking an appropriation of $150 for a bridge built some time ago. On motion of Mr. Hughes the petition was referred to the finance committee.

The committee on the gopher plague recommended the use of strychnine, &c., and the ordinance respecting poisons was amended so as to admit of putting out strychnine for the poisoning of gophers.

Judge Richardson, as chairman of the Civil Justice Committee, stated that the petition from Prince Albert, asking the Council to legalize certain by-laws, &c., had been refused. Information necessary for the committee had not come to hand. In the absence of this the committee could not grant the prayer of the petition. The report was received.

Mr. Jelly moved that the replies of the Dominion Government to the memorials sent to Ottawa last session from the Council be taken up. He believed that some of the resolutions sent to Ottawa had not received the attention they were entitled to. These resolutions were of vital importance to the country. An idea seemed to be entertained at Ottawa that the council sent a large number of resolutions with the idea that some or many of them would be granted. The sooner this notion was dispelled the better. The Government should understand that whatever the Council asked was urgently needed.

Mr. Turfitt drew attention to resolution 18 relating to old numbered sections. That matter was of great importance to the country, and he strongly suggested it be urged upon the Government again. The people felt it a hardship to see lots of land held as they are by land companies. These lands were exempted from taxation and the people complained bitterly of such exemption. He considered the Canada Northwest Company should not be excluded from taxation like the C. P. R. He urged the Council to ask the Dominion Government to purchase the C. P. R. and other companies' lands and throw them open for settlement. In conclusion he would

said that last year's memorial on the subject should be sent back to Ottawa.

Mr. Jelly thanked the Dominion Government for what they had granted, but there were a few important resolutions yet to be considered.

Mr. Secord complained of resolution 25 not being attended to, and he would show the Council its importance instancing the town of Regina. The town lots there were sold at very high figures, and the people felt the Government had no right to speculate on a large area of the town site. He contended that it retarded the growth of the town materially.

Mr. Ross also complained of resolution 25 as his hon. friend, Mr. Secord, had. He would refer to Moosejaw. Was it not absurd and wrong that one-tenth of the town site should continue to pay taxes for nine-tenths of the undisposed lands of the town. Present figures were entirely too high for town lots. He believed these undisposed lots would remain in the hands of the land companies for years to come.

His Honor said all last year's resolutions were sent in through the Secretary of State. He would suggest that any resolution pertaining to a particular department should be sent direct to that department.

Mr. Turfitt asked whether the Council could compel the Northwest Land Company to pay taxes.

His Honor—I don't think so.

Mr. Secord thought these land companies could be compelled to pay taxes. He referred to the action taken by the Calgary corporation.

Mr. Cayley remarked that the Calgary case could hardly be looked upon as a test case. Land companies had legal rights, and he did not suppose any ordinance of the Northwest could alter them. The matter was one for the law courts.

Mr. Jelly moved that the replies to last Council's resolutions, and the report of the delegates, be referred to the memorial committee. Adopted.

Mr. Secord introduced an ordinance to incorporate the Regina General Hospital. The bill was read a first time.

The bill to incorporate agricultural societies was passed with some amendments.

Some discussion took place on sub-section 2, section 5, of the Ordinance to amend the School Ordinance of 1885, "To arrange, provide and pay the salaries and expenses of the officers of the school board." Mr. Ross objecting to the Council handing over the school appropriation to the Board of Education. He thought the people would not stand it. The Council were responsible to their constituents for the monies expended. He thought the Council should have the granting of the school appropriation in their own hands.

Judge Rouleau differed with Mr. Ross. School inspectors were officials of the board. If the latter were not paid by the board the board would lose control of them.

Mr. Secord also differed with Mr. Ross. The board was the proper party to expend the school money. For his part if the Council was not willing to grant the authority he as a member of the board would be glad to be relieved of his office.

Mr. Ross could not see any argument in the remarks of Judge Rouleau.

His Honor said he had listened with a great deal of attention to the remarks of the hon. gentlemen on the subject of discussion. He understood some members of the council thought the Board of Education should receive more definite instructions with regard to the expenditure of school monies. So far the board were guided by the ordinances. For his part he would say as chairman of the board that he would be glad to have the responsibility of expending the education appropriation taken off his shoulders. He was glad to see the care some gentlemen exercised over the Council funds. That was quite right and he would be glad to see such a watchfulness exercised over every item of the local funds. This control by the Council of its funds and the care exercised in the proper expenditure every dollar was more satisfactory to the country and certainly to himself. (Loud applause.)

Mr. Secord thought it unfair of Mr. Cayley to spring that discussion. No body knew the schools of the Northwest and their requirements better than the board, and he still maintained the board had a right to pay its officers.

Mr. Secord advocated the establishment of Grammar and Normal schools in the Territories.

Mr. Perley thought Normal schools premature. He thought the establishment of Grammar schools more necessary and suitable for the Territories. A first-class teacher with an extra grant, could do all the work of a high school in the Territories.

Mr. Secord thought Normal Schools were wanted to train their teachers. One half the teachers now employed on the Territorial board were uncertificated. A first-class teacher getting a grant could never take the place of a Normal school. Mr. Perley wanted to get a high school for Weyburn. If hon. gentlemen came to that council in that spirit, better let the country know it.

Mr. Perley warmly repudiated the assertions of Mr. Secord. He had never advocated a measure in the interests of the town he represented.

Mr. Ross agreed with Mr. Perley as to the establishment of grammar schools. Mr. Grover, as inspector, might be a good officer, but he was the first man he had ever heard in the Northwest advocating the present day Normal school.

Following is a brief synopsis of the more salient features of the ordinance to amend the school ordinance:

1. Sections 5 and 6 of last year's school ordinance are repealed.
2. The board of education must meet at least twice a year for the payment of salaries, election of officers and to make such regulations as they may think fit for the general organization of schools.
3. Teachers' certificates will be of four classes, first, second, third and provisional. The words "alien or" are struck out in the last year's ordinance.
4. Section 23 is repealed, and the following clause substituted, "Trustees shall be resident electors."
5. Sections 25 and 26 are repealed.
6. The following is added to section 54: "The teacher of the school may be the secretary of the school district, but not the treasurer."
6. By the amended ordinance the treasurer may be remunerated for his services by a sum not exceeding 2½ per cent on all monies passing through his hands on account of the district, the proceeds of school debentures excepted.
9. School houses may be built, payment for which may be made in a term of years not exceeding five in annual or semi-annual payments, the whole cost of such building not to exceed $500.
9. Sections 124, 124, 132, 143, 145 and sub-section 2 of section 151 are repealed.

"Come, let's cross the street," said a man to a friend with whom he was walking. "I don't want to meet that fellow Vignore. I owe him."

"Why are you so much afraid to-day? You met him yesterday and shook hands with him."

"Yes; but it was different then."

"Why so?"

"Because he expected me to pay him for the last suit of clothes I bought from him out of ten thousand dollars I relied on that fellow I used having to pay me. But I have been disappointed. You see the Judge didn't take the same view of the case as I did."—Wasp.

"Oh, Mr. Smith," said a young lady at a church fair, "I want your help for a moment." "Certainly," replied Mr. Smith, "what can I do for you?" "I have just sold a tidy for $15 that cost 15 cents, and I want you to tell me what percentage that is." "A transaction of that kind, my dear Mrs. A," said Mr. Smith, who is a lawyer, "goes out of percentage and into larceny."—Wasp.
